BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCHES

GREATER attention has been paid in the preparation of these sketches to the ultra-modern composers, or to those comparatively unknown in this country, than to those whose lives are recorded at length in English music dictionaries. An exception has been made in the case of Berlioz, Massenet and Saint-Saëns, with a view to the dates of compositions.

The reader will find much information concerning the operas, oratorios and cantatas of composers here mentioned by consulting Adolphe Jullien's "Musiciens d'Aujourd'hui," 2 vols. (Paris, 1892-94). Other books of reference are the Mercur de France (published in Paris monthly), the volumes of collected feuilletons by "Willy," or "L'Ouvreuse"—Henri Gauthier-Villars (1890-1901); and Gustave Robert's "La Musique à Paris" (1894-1900).

When the name of a city is not mentioned in connection with the performance of an opera or other work, the town of that performance was Paris.

ABBREVIATIONS: a.—act; acc.—accompaniment; cant.—cantata; comp.—composed; dr. leg.—dramatic legend; dr. or.—dramatic oratorio; dr. sc.—dramatic scene; dr. sym.—dramatic symphony; fant.—fantasia; in coll.—in collaboration; lyr. com.—lyric comedy; lyr. dr.—lyric drama; lyr. ep.—lyric episode; lyr. pant.—lyric pantomime; lyr. sc.—lyric scene; lyr. sym.—lyric symphony; lyr. tr.—lyric tragedy; mus. com.—musical comedy; m. d.—music drama; mim.—mimodrama; op.—grand opera; Opé.—the Paris Opéra; op. c.—opéra-comique; *Op. ¹ Date given me by the composer. "1851" is the year in the records of the Paris Conservatory.

"Les Sept Ivresses;" "Vision de Sainte Thérèse" (1889); "La Vision de la Reine," cant.; music to Bordese's cycle "Contes Mystiques;" a setting of poems by Catullus; a hundred or more songs, some of them signed by her "Hermann Zenta."

Henri Gauthier-Villars wrote of her in 1889: "Somebody spoke of her as 'a pretentious blue-stocking.' Oh, no! She wears boots, boots with spurs on them. She is certainly not a woman in her use of the brass in the 'Ode Triomphale;' here she is a whole regiment; and at any rate she may justly be called, 'La Fiancée du Cymbalier.'"

See Villiers de l'Isle-Adam in "Chez les Passants;" Imbert's "Nouveaux Profils de Musiciens" (Paris, 1892); Saint-Saëns "Harmonie et Mélodie" (pp. 225-239).

HÜE, GEORGES ADOLPHE

Born at Versailles, May 6, 1858. Pupil of Reber and Paladilhe at the Paris Conservatory; prix de Rome, 1879; Cressent prize, 1881; City of Paris prize, 1885. (1897).

See an elaborate biographical sketch in the Musical Courier (N. Y.), May 15, 1901.

INDY, PAUL MARIE THÉODORE VINCENT D'

Born at Paris, March 27, 1852.¹ Studied for the bar against his will, and preferred the lessons in harmony of Lavignac and the piano lessons of Diémer. Served during the Franco-Prussian War, then became connected with Colonne's Concerts du Châtelet as kettledrummer, afterward chorus-master. Entered the Paris Conservatory to study the organ with César Franck: 1st accessit, 1875. He then left the Conservatory to study counterpoint and composition with Franck. In 1887 he became chorus-master of the Lamoureux concerts and he helped prepare the first performance of "Lohengrin" in Paris (Eden Théâtre, May 3, 1887). One of the founders of the Société Nationale de Musique, he became president after the death of Franck. He was one of the founders in 1896 of the Schola Cantorum, of which he is now director. He was a Wagnerite of the early seventies. As conductor, he has travelled extensively.

Stage works: "Attendez moi sous l'orme," 1 a. (comp. 1876-78; Op. C., 1882); "Fervaal," musical action in 3 a. and a prologue (comp. 1889-95; Monnaie, Brussels, 1897); "L'Étranger," musical action (Brussels, 1903); incidental music to Alexandre's "Karadec" (1891); to Mendès' tragedy "Médée" (1898).

Orchestral works: "La Foret Enchantée," sym. ballad (1878); "Wallenstein," trilogy after Schiller (comp. 1873-81); "Piccolomini" (perf. 1874); "Mort de Wallenstein" (perf. 1880); "Le Camp" (1884; first performance as a whole, 1888); "Saugefleurie," legend (comp. 1884; perf. 1885); symphony for piano and orch. on a French mountain air (comp. in 1886; perf. in 1887); Fantaisie on folk-songs for oboe and orch. (1888); "Istar," symphonic variations (comp. 1896; perf. Brussels, 1897); varied choral for saxophone and orch. (1903); symphony in B flat, 1904). Suite from the music to "Médée."

Chamber works: piano quartet (1878); suite in D in the old style for trumpet, two flutes and strings (1886); trio for piano, clarinet, 'cello (1886-87); 1st string quartet (1890); 2d string quartet (1897-98); "Chanson et Danses," for wind instruments (1898).

Vocal works: "La Chevauchée du Cid," scene for bar. and orch. (composed as a song 1877; remodelled and performed in 1884); "Le Chant de la Cloche," dr. leg. after Schiller—City of Paris prize of 1886—(comp. 1879-83; perf. 1886); "Clair de Lune," voice and orch. (1880); "Ste. Marie Magdeleine," cant. (1885); "Sur la Mer," chorus for female voices (1888); "Deus Israel," motet (1896); "Lied maritime," for voice and orch. (1896); a few songs.

Piano pieces: "Poème des Montagnes," suite (1881); "Helvetia," three waltzes (1884); "Schumanniana," three pieces (1887); "Tableaux de voyage," thirteen pieces (1889).

"La Chanson des Aventuriers de la Mer," bar. and orch. (1870); "Symphonie chevaleresque: Jean Hunyade" (1876); overture "Antoine et Cléopâtre" (1877), are not included by M. d'Indy in the manuscript catalogue drawn up by him, nor is the cantata for the inauguration of Augier's statue at Valence (1893).

D'Indy is the librettist of his two serious operas, a collaborator with Tiersot in collections of folk-songs, the editor of Solomon Rossi's madrigals, and the author of a "Cours de Composition musicale," of which only the first volume has been published as yet—1904.

See Imbert's "Profils de Musiciens" (Paris, 1888); "Fervaal' devant la Presse" (Paris, 1897); "Fervaal," by Etienne Destranges (Paris, 1896).

LALO, EDOUARD VICTOR ANTOINE

Born at Lille, January 27, 1823; died at Paris, April 23, 1892. Studied at Lille with Baumann; at Paris with Habeneck (violin), Schulhoff and Crèveœur (composition). Viola of the Armingaud-Jacquard Quartet.

Stage works: "Fiesque," op. 3 a. (1867, not perf.); "Namouna," ballet, 2 a. (Opé., 1882); "Le Roi d'Ys," op. 3 a. (Op. C., 1888); "Néron," pant. (1891); "La Jacquerie," op. 4 a. (only the first act—completed by Coquard; Monte Carlo, 1895).

Orchestral: "Divertissement" (1872); Allegro; "Rap-sodie Norvégienne" (1879); Symphony in G minor (1887).

Concertos: violin, op. 20 (1874); "Symphonie Espagnole," with violin solo, op. 21 (1875); 'cello (1877); "Fantaisie Norvégienne," for violin (Berlin, 1878); "Concerto Russe," for violin (1880); piano, in C minor (1889); "Fantaisie Ballet," for violin (first played in 1900).

Chamber and piano music. Among these pieces three piano trios, violin sonata, 'cello sonata, string quartet.

Three vocal pieces for church; about thirty songs; two duets.

See essays by Georges Servières; "La Musique française Moderne" (1897), and by H. Imbert in "Nouveaux Profils de Musiciens" (Paris, 1892).

LEMAIRE, JEAN EUGÈNE GASTON

Born at the Château d'Amblainvilliers (S. and O.), September 9, 1854. Pupil of the Ecole Niedermeyer. Music critic of la Presse (1888). "En dansant la gavotte: scène Louis XV chantée et dansée" (1890); operettas, ballets and pantomimes for minor theatres; "Jeffick," sym. p.; pieces for orchestra, piano pieces, songs, sacred music.

VOICE

The musical score is written for voice and piano. The voice part is in a single treble clef with a key signature of one sharp (F#) and a common time signature (C). The piano accompaniment is in a grand staff with two treble clefs and one bass clef, also in F# and C. The tempo is marked 'Allegro, con molto anima' and 'Avec assez d'animation'. The score is divided into four systems, each with a vocal line and a piano accompaniment line. The lyrics are provided in both English and French. The piano part features a consistent eighth-note accompaniment pattern in the right hand and a more active bass line in the left hand. There are some first and second endings marked in the piano part. The score concludes with a final cadence in the piano part.

HAVANAISE (LA ISLENA — L'ISOLANA)

From the Spanish

English version by Isabella G. Parker

(Original Key, C)

E. PALADILHE
(1844 -)

Allegro

PIANO

The first system of the piano introduction features a 3/8 time signature and a key signature of two flats (B-flat and E-flat). The right hand plays a rhythmic pattern of eighth notes with chords, marked with accents and dynamics such as f, ten., sfz, and p. The left hand provides a simple accompaniment of eighth notes.

The first line of the vocal melody is set in 3/8 time with a key signature of two flats. The lyrics are: "When the plane-trees are / Au mi-lieu des pla-". The piano accompaniment continues with chords and eighth notes, marked with dynamics f, p, f, and pp. There are asterisks under the piano part in the first and third measures.

The second line of the vocal melody continues with the lyrics: "gloom-ing With high arch-es green, Where the vines bright-ly bloom-ing Sus- / ta-nes Aux lar-ges fron-tons, Où la fleur des li-a-nes Sus-". The piano accompaniment features a triplet of eighth notes in the first measure and continues with chords and eighth notes.

The third line of the vocal melody concludes with the lyrics: "pend-ed— are seen; There my light ham-mock sway-ing Moves soft—to—and / fend ses—fes-tons; Mon ha-mac se ba-lan-ce, Ber-çant mol-le-". The piano accompaniment includes a triplet of eighth notes in the first measure and continues with chords and eighth notes.
